Lesson 7.1: Prepare for at Least One Crisis in Each Crisis Family 60

Lesson 7.2: It Is Not Sufficient to Prepare for Crises That Are Normal in an Industry 62

Lesson 7.3: Prepare for the Simultaneous Occurrence of Multiple Crises 62

Lesson 7.4: The Purpose of Definitions Are to Guide, Not Predict 63

VIII CONTENTS

Lesson 7.5: Every Type of Crisis Can Happen to Every Organization	63
Lesson 7.6: No Type of Crisis Should Be Taken Literally	64
Lesson 7.7: Tampering is the Most Generic Form or Type of All Crises	64
Lesson 7.8: No Crisis Ever Happens as One Plans for It; Therefore, Thinking about the Unthinkable Is More Important Than Crisis Plans Per Se	64
Lesson 7.9: Traditional Risk Analysis Is Both Dangerous and Misleading	65
Lesson 7.10: Every Crisis is Capable of Being Both the Cause and the Effect of Any Other Crisis	65
Lesson 7.11: Crisis Leadership Is Systemic	66
Lesson 7.12: Perform a Systemic Crisis Audit of Your Organization	66
Lesson 7.13: Crisis Leaders Not Only Recognize the Validity of All the Types of Crises, But They Also See the Interconnections Between Them	66

Signal Detection 82

Crisis Mechanisms 82

Lesson 10.1: All Crises Are Preceded by Early Warning Signals 82

Lesson 10.2: Signals Are Not Self-Amplifying or Self-Blocking 82

Lesson 10.3: Signals Do Not Exist by Themselves; They Are Part of, and a Reflection of, the Overall Structure of an Organization	83
Lesson 10.4: Signal Detection Is a Direct Reflection of Our Priorities	84
The Case of a Major Insurance Company	85
Lesson 10.5: Signal Detection Necessitates Signal Detectors	85
Lesson 10.6: Different Crises Require Different Detectors	85
The Dimensions of Signals	85
Lesson 10.7: Not All Signals Are Alike	85
Lesson 10.8: Every Signal Detector Needs a Signal Monitor	86
An Example	86
Lesson 10.9: Signals Have to Be Transmitted to the Right People	87
Lesson 10.10: Individual Signal Detection Is Not Enough	87
An Objection	88
Lesson 10.11: A Crisis Is the Worst Time to Invent Damage Containment	90
Lesson 10.12: "No-fault Learning" Is One of the Most Important Aspects of Crisis Leadership	90
Lesson 10.13: Damage Containment Mechanisms Are Simultaneously Mechanisms and Policies	90
