

Leadership and Discovery

Edited by
George R. Goethals
and
J. Thomas Wren

HHOCHSCHULE
<sup>m</sup> LIECHTENSTEIN
Bibliothek

palgrave
macmillan

C O N T E N T S

Contributors	vii
Acknowledgments	xiii
Introduction George R. Goethals and]. Thomas Wren	1
Part I^ Defining the Leadership of Discovery
One    Discovery in Astronomy: Ex Uno Plures Karen B. Kwitter	11
Two    The Perils of Searching for Leadership and Discovery: The Case of Jamestown and John Smith PatricfrGriffin	27
Part II    Leading Discovery
Three Leadership in the History of Exploration Felipe Ferndndez-Armesto	47
Four    Leadership and Discovery: Lessons from the Lewis and Clark Expedition Daniel B. Thorp	61
Five    Leading NASA in Space Exploration: James E. Webb, Apollo, and Today W. Henry Lambright	79
Part III    Experiencing Leadership and Discovery
Six    Self-Discovery David A. Dunning	101

Seven	Exploration and Discovery in Space Jeffrey A. Hoffman	121
Eight	Leadership and Discovery Gerrit L. Verschuur	143
Part IV Ethical Challenges in the Leadership of Discovery
Nine	A Conspicuous Absence of Scientific Leadership: The Illusory Epidemic of Autism Morton A. Gernsbacher	157
Ten	On Giraffes and Bank Accounts: Rethinking Discovery, Creation, and Literary Imagination Ronald F. Thiemann	171
	Conclusion: Understanding Leadership and Discovery George R. Goethals	189
Index	^ .	203