

The Mindful International Manager

How to work effectively across cultures

Jeremy Comfort and Peter Franklin

KoganPage

LONDON PHILADELPHIA NEW DELHI

Contents

Acknowledgements viii

Foreword ix

0 Introduction 1

1 Home and away 7

Core competences 7

Surfacing expectations 10

Understanding your own cultures 11

Profiling your own cultures 12

Best practice: focused on goals, flexible on approaches 16

2 Difference and common ground 19

Competing values? 19

Power in national and organizational cultures 21

Time in national and organizational cultures 22

Communication in national and organizational cultures 24

Individualism and group orientation in national and organizational cultures 26

Best practice: building a common culture 30

3 Individuals and groups 33

Stereotypes 33

Personality and behaviour – at work and at home 37

Personality 38

Connecting personality and culture 40

Best practice: get to know your team 42

Best practice: the role of leadership 44

Case study 1: Laurence Berger 46

4 Direction 49

The relationship between setting direction and uncertainty 49

Direction and vision 51

Communicating direction: big picture or detail? Push or pull? 52

Long- and short-term orientation 54

Past, present and future 56

Best practice: top-down or bottom-up or something else? 58

Case study 2: Phil Carey 61

5 Organization and change 63

Attitudes towards change 63

Changing organizational structure 66

Working in international projects 67

Working without a leader 69

Best practice: the four Ps 70

Case study 3: Pierre Menton 72

6 Roles 75

Management roles and styles 75

International roles and local roles 77

The role of the expert and the role of the manager 78

The role of the influencer 80

The role of the connector 83

Best practice: defining roles 84

Case study 4: Sun Mei Ling 86

7 Communication 89

Constructing meaning 89

Tuning into body language 90

Taking turns at speaking 92

Using language to create understanding 93

Listening actively to create understanding 96

Communicating, socializing and building relationships 96

Best practice: speaking transparently and listening effectively 99

Case study 5: Talal Hamieh 101

8 Feedback 103

Formal and informal feedback 103

Culture and feedback 104

Face and feedback 106

Personality and feedback 106

Types of feedback 107

Best practice: balancing transparency and harmony 109

9 Conflict 113

Personal attitudes towards conflict 113

Culturally influenced attitudes towards conflict 116

Preventing conflict through effective communication 119

Preventing conflict through understanding the context 121

Resolving conflicts: some options 121

Best practice: yourself, the others and trust 124

10 Cooperation 127

The basis for cooperation 127

Regulating cooperation 129

Building a common culture to leverage diversity 131

Best practice: cooperating in virtual teams 134

Best practice: cooperating in international teams 136

Case study answers 139

Profiles of the managers quoted 143

Glossary 147

References 155

Index 159