

B R A N D S C A P E S

Architecture in the Experience Economy

Anna Klingmann

- UNIVERSITÄT
- LIECHTENSTEIN

Bibliothek

The MIT Press Cambridge, Massachusetts London, England

CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

INTRODUCTION: ARCHITECTURE IN THE EXPERIENCE ECONOMY

Experiences WHICH DO NOT Sing

2.1	Liners: From Function to Experience	11
2.2	Airplanes: From Hardware to Human ware	19
2.3	Automobiles: From Standardization to Mass Customization	24

...

•GHAN(,IM(; or run Com;	35
-------------------------	----

...

3.1	The Experience Economy	35
3.2	Architecture as Experience	45
3-3	The Brand	35
3-4	Added Value	65

Architecture WITHOUT ARCHITECTS

4.1	Architecture with a Plot	69
	Living the Fully Branded Experience	77
4.2	Literal Brandscapes	81
	Times Square and Potsdamer Platz	83
	NikeTown	86
4.3	Phenomenal Brandscapes	89
	Third Street Promenade: Evolution into a "Flattened" Branded Landscape	93
	Jerde Partnership: Reinventing the Communal Experience	99
	Inspiration	101

C

MARKETING; WITHOUT MARKETING

5.1	The Choreography of Unpredictability	111
5.2	The Accommodating Critical	115
5.3	Nobrow	124
5.4	Liquid Architecture	128
5.5	Datascapes	131
5.6	Time-Based Strategies	135
5.7	Parametric Design	135
5.8	SHoP	145
5.9	The Legacy of Modernism	148

MARKETING

6.1	How Marketing Trumped (Modernist) Ideology	155
6.2	Architecture as Product: Understanding, Creating, Communicating	184

(M) ARCHITECTURE

7.1	The Lessons of Las Vegas	189
	The Inverted Shed and the Inverted Duck	190
	Place Marketing	194
7.2	The Illusion of Plans	206
	From Composition to Choreography	206
	From Object to Field	211
	From Axis to Path	212
	From Wall to Surface	213
7.3	Pure Creation of the Mind	214
	The Legibility of Intention	214
	The Discontinuity of Stage and Backstage	215
	Drama + Diversity + Detail	217
	Addendum 1: Figural Regimes of Signification	223
	Addendum 2: The Parthenon	230

Q U Y OND BILBAO	237
8.1 Architecture as a Catalyst for Urban Renewal	237
8.2 Architecture as Brand Equity	240
8.3 Architecture as Spectacle	247
^ ARCHITECTURI: AS A Bli AND	255
J
9.1 Corporate Branding	255
The Tension between Market and Place	255
Corporate Architecture	259
The Case of Volkswagen and Ford	260
From Impact to Contact	265
Inspiration	270
9.2 Urban Branding	271
Think Locally, Act Globally	271
Architecture as a Marketing Tool	273
Concept Engineering	281
9.3 Residential Branding	285
Brandism™	291
The Brand Called "You"	301
TiN REMINDERS TO ARCHITECTS	311
J U
10.1 From Product to Brand	311
10.2 From Need to Desire	312
10.3 From Performance to Experience	313
10.4 From Plan to Choreography	314
10.5 From Program to Ambience	314
10.6 From Impact to Contact	315
10.7 From Function to Form	316
10.8 From Commodity to Catalyst	317
10.9 From Physical to Human Context	318
10.10 From Object to Subject	318

BKIDC-ING THE; GAP	321
Afterword	327
NO T us	331
IN nnx	35 1