

Research Handbook on Executive Pay

Edited by

Randall S. Thomas

Vanderbilt Law School, USA

Jennifer G. Hill

Sydney Law School, Australia

RESEARCH HANDBOOKS IN CORPORATE LAW AND GOVERNANCE

Edward Elgar

Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

List of contributors	vii
Introduction	1
PART I HISTORY AND THEORY
1 The politics of pay: a legislative history of executive compensation Kevin J. Murphy	11
2 U.S. executive compensation in historical perspective Harwell Wells	41
3 Executive pay and corporate governance reform in the UK; what has been achieved? Steve Thompson	58
4 Governance codes, managerial remuneration and disciplining in the UK: a history of governance reform failure? Luc Renneboog and Grzegorz Trojanowski	73
5 Agency theory and incentive compensation William Bratton	101
PART II THE STRUCTURE OF EXECUTIVE PAY
6 Bankers' compensation and prudential supervision: the international principles Guido Ferrarini	123
7 Reforming financial executives' compensation for the long term Sanjai Bhagat and Roberta Romano	136
8 How to avoid compensating the CEO for luck: the case of macroeconomic fluctuations Lars Oxelheim, Clas Wihlborg and Jianhua Zhang	159
9 CEO compensation and stock options in IPO firms Salim Chahine and Marc Goergen	183
10 Corporate governance going astray: executive remuneration built to fail Jaap Winter	199
PART III CORPORATE GOVERNANCE AND EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION
11 Regulating executive remuneration after the global financial crisis: common law perspectives Jennifer G. Hill	219

vi	Research handbook on executive pay
12	Institutional investor preferences and executive compensation Joseph A. McCahery and Zacharias Sautner	241
13	Say on pay and the outrage constraint Kym Sheehan	255
14	Taxing executive compensation Glen Loutzenhiser	284
15	Insider trading and executive compensation: what we can learn from the experience with Rule 10b5-1 M. Todd Henderson	299
16	Executive compensation consultants Ruth Bender	320
PART IV INTERNATIONAL PERSPECTIVES ON EXECUTIVE PAY
17	Lessons from the rapid evolution of executive remuneration practices in Australia: hard law, soft law, boards and consultants Randall S. Thomas	341
18	Presidents' compensation in Japan Katsuyuki Kubo	369
19	Top executive pay in China Michael Firth, Tak Yan Leung and Oliver M. Rui	387
20	Executive compensation and pay for performance in China Martin J. Canyon and Lerong He	414
21	Executive compensation in India Rajesh Chakrabarti, Krishnamurthy Subramanian, Pradeep K. Yadav and Yasha Yadav	435
22	The EU and executive pay: managing harmonization risks Niamh Moloney	466
23	Executive compensation under German corporate law: reasonableness, managerial incentives and sustainability in order to enhance optimal contracting and to limit managerial power Brigitte Huar	486
24	Director and executive compensation regulations for Italian listed and closed corporations Carlo Amatucci and Manlio Lubrano di Scorpaniello	506
	 Index	 521