

OUT OF THE CRISIS

W. EDWARDS DEMING

The MIT Press
Cambridge, Massachusetts
London, England

Contents

|  |             |      |
|--|-------------|------|
| About the Author   | page | vii  |
| Preface  |             | ix   |
| Acknowledgments  |             | xiii |
| 1. Chain Reaction: Quality, Productivity,Lower Costs, Capture the Market |             | 1    |
| 2. Principles for Transformation ofWestern Management                    |             | 18   |
| 3. Diseases and Obstacles  |             | 97   |
| 4. When? How Long?   |             | 149  |
| 5. Questions to Help Managers  |             | 156  |
| 6. Quality and the Consumer  |             | 167  |
| 7. Quality and Productivity inService Organizations                      |             | 183  |
| 8. Some New Principles of Training andLeadership                         |             | 248  |
| 9. Operational Definitions, Conformance,Performance                      |             | 276  |
| 10. Standards and Regulations  |             | 297  |
| 11. Common Causes and Special Causes ofImprovement. Stable System.       |             | 309  |
| 12. More Examples of Improvement Downstream                                  |             | 371  |

|     |  |     |
|-----|--|-----|
| 13. | Some Disappointments in Great Ideas  | 388 |
| 14. | Two Reports to Management  | 397 |
| 15. | Plan for Minimum Average Total Cost forTest of Incoming Materials andFinal Product | 407 |
| 16. | Organization for Improvement of Quality andProductivity                                | 465 |
| 17. | Some Illustrations for Improvement of Living   | 475 |
| 18. | Appendix: Transformation in Japan  | 486 |
|     | Index  | 493 |