Preface xi

Part I: Introduction

1 Judgment under uncertainty: Heuristics and biases 3
Amos Tversky and Daniel Kahneman

Part II: Representativeness

2 Belief in the law of small numbers 23
Amos Tversky and Daniel Kahneman

3 Subjective probability: A judgment of representativeness 32
Daniel Kahneman and Amos Tversky

4 On the psychology of prediction 48
Daniel Kahneman and Amos Tversky

5 Studies of representativeness 69
Maya Bar-Hillel

6 Judgments of and by representativeness 84
Amos Tversky and Daniel Kahneman

Part III: Causality and attribution

7 Popular induction: Information is not necessarily informative 101
Richard E. Nisbett, Eugene Borgida, Rick Crandall, and Harvey Reed

8 Causal schemas in judgments under uncertainty 117
Amos Tversky and Daniel Kahneman

9 Shortcomings in the attribution process: On the origins and maintenance of erroneous social assessments 129
Lee Ross and Craig A. Anderson

10 Evidential impact of base rates 153
Amos Tversky and Daniel Kahneman

Part IV: Availability

11 Availability: A heuristic for judging frequency and probability 163
Amos Tversky and Daniel Kahneman

12 Egocentric biases in availability and attribution 179
Michael Ross and Fiore Sicoly

13 The availability bias in social perception and interaction 190
Shelley E. Taylor

14 The simulation heuristic 201
Daniel Kahneman and Amos Tversky

Part V: Covariation and control

15 Informal covariation assessment: Data-based versus theory-based judgments 211
Dennis L. Jennings, Teresa M. Amabile, and Lee Ross

16 The illusion of control 231
Ellen J. Longer

17 Test results are what you think they are 239
Loren J. Chapman and Jean Chapman

18 Probabilistic reasoning in clinical medicine: Problems and opportunities 249
David M. Eddy

19 Learning from experience and suboptimal rules in decision making 268
Hillel J. Einhorn

Part VI: Overconfidence

20 Overconfidence in case-study judgments 287
Stuart Oskamp

21 A progress report on the training of probability assessors 294
Marc Alpert and Howard Raiffa

22 Calibration of probabilities: The state of the art to 1980 306
Sarah Lichtenstein, Baruch Fischhoff, and Lawrence D. Phillips

23 For those condemned to study the past: Heuristics and biases in hindsight 335
Baruch Fischhojf

Part VII: Multistage evaluation

24 Evaluation of compound probabilities in sequential choice 355
John Cohen, E. I. Chesnick, and D. Haran

25 Conservatism in human information processing 359
Ward Edwards

26 The best-guess hypothesis in multistage inference 370
Charles F. Gettys, Clinton Kelly III, and Cameron R. Peterson

27 Inferences of personal characteristics on the basis of information retrieved from one's memory 378
Yaacov Trope

Part VIII: Corrective procedures

28 The robust beauty of improper linear models in decision making 391
Robyn M. Dawes

29 The vitality of mythical numbers 408
Max Singer

30 Intuitive prediction: Biases and corrective procedures 414
Daniel Kahneman and Amos Tversky

31 Debiasing 422
Baruch Fischhoff

32 Improving inductive inference 445
Richard E. Nisbett, David H. Krantz, Christopher Jepson, and Geoffrey T. Fong

Part IX: Risk perception

33 Facts versus fears: Understanding perceived risk 463
Paul Slovic, Baruch Fischhoff, and Sarah Lichtenstein

Part X: Postscript

34 On the study of statistical intuitions 493
Daniel Kahneman and Amos Tversky

35 Variants of uncertainty 509
Daniel Kahneman and Amos Tversky
