

Berlin Urban Design

A Brief History of a European City

Harald Bodenschatz

Translation by

Sasha Disko and Jim Hudson

A publishers

UNIVERSE A;
LIECHTENSTEIN

Bibliothek

Contents

Foreword by Karl Friedhelm Fischer

Windows Upon Urban Design in Berlin	6
Berlin Urban Design – A Brief History	13
1. Old Berlin	14
2. Berlin Becomes a Metropolis	29
2.1 "The world's largest tenement house settlement"	34
2.2 Exclusive Suburban Areas and "Garden Cities"	43
2.3 The Greater-Berlin Competition, 1908-1910	50
3. The Road to a Radically New Berlin	56
3.1 The Weimar Republic (1918-1932)	56
3.2 The National Socialist Period (1933-1945)	62
3.3 The World Capital of the Cold War	77
4. A City with a Past and a Future	92
4.1 The Move Away from Modernist Urban Design	92
4.2 After the Fall of the Wall	109
The First Phase (1990-1995)	112
The Second Phase (1995-1999)	129
The Third Phase (1999-2006)	137
The Forth Phase (since 2006)	142
5. Berlin – a Model for European Urbanism?	158
5.1 The Urban Legacy of the Imperial Era	158
5.2 The Legacy of Suburban Estates from the First World War to the 1980s	159
5.3 The Rehabilitation of the Urban City Centre since the 1970s	166
5.4 New Urban Design Challenges	170
Bibliography	177