

7055 R657

RE-USA

20 american stories of adaptive reuse

A toolkit for post-industrial cities

Matteo Robiglio

 UNIVERSITÄT
LIECHTENSTEIN
bibliothek

412034

Contents

Foreword by Donald K. Carter		2
Preface		5
Part one 20 american stories of adaptive reuse		8
Philadelphia	1 Rebranding the Navy Yard	14
	2 Urban acupuncture in Fishtown	20
Washington, D.C.	3 The capital's new food chain	28
Pittsburgh	4 Rust and hope in the Mon Valley	36
	5 The cathedral of electrics	40
	6 From biscuits to bits at Bakery Square	46
	7 Penn Avenue, one plot at a time	52
	8 Food drives reuse on the Strip	60
	9 Robots in the steel mill	66
Chicago	10 The Plan(t) to feed the city	74
	11 Inclusion and leisure along the 606	80
	12 Stuff to reuse at Rebuilding Exchange	86
	13 The proudest home in town	92
Detroit	14 Russell's creative outlaws	100
	15 The jobs of Shinola	106
	16 BBQ remaking Corktown	112
	17 The art of reuse in Klinger Street	118
	18 Packard, or the next big thing	124
New York	19 High-end along the High Line	132
	20 The people of Brooklyn Bridge Park	138
Part two The adaptive reuse toolkit		144
a	Explore possibilities	148
b	Assess potential	150
c	Envision the future	154
d	Involve partners	156
e	Colonize the place	158
f	Design to reuse	160
g	Placemaking and funding	164
h	Run and evolve	166
Part three Adaptive reuse architecture		168
Old is the new new. Architecture and the adaptive reuse of industrial legacy		170
Adaptive reuse architecture: selected readings and timeline by Elena Vigliocco		218
Acknowledgments		236