

Leo Nefiodow

Simone Nefiodow

THE SIXTH KONDRATIEFF

The New Long Wave in the Global Economy

Steam engine Textile industry	Railroad Steel	Electrotechnology Chemical industry	Automobile Petrochemical industry	Information technology	"p ;
----------------------------------	-------------------	--	---	---------------------------	---------

1st Kondratieff	2nd Kondratieff	3rd Kondratieff	4th Kondratieff	5th Kondratieff	6th Kondratieff
1780	1830-50	1870-1890	1920-1935	1950-1980	2000-05 20xx

The Long Waves of Economic Development

CONTENTS

PART ONE

A New Long Wave in the Global Economy	1
CHAPTER 1	2
Introduction to the Theory of Long Waves	2
1.1 What is a Kondratieff Cycle?	2
1.2 Basic Innovation, Leading Industry and Value Chain	3
1.3 The Previous Kondratieff Cycles	4
1.4 The 1970s: A Turning Point in History	11
1.5 How Does One Recognize Basic Innovations?	13
1.6 The Kondratieff Cycles from a Historical Point of View	18
CHAPTER 2	21
Identifying the Sixth Kondratieff	21
The Major New Markets of the 21st Century	21
2.1 The First Candidate: The Information Industry	21
2.1.1 What Growth Barriers Impede the Sixth Kondratieff?	23
2.1.2 How Much Disorder Can the World Take?	25
2.1.3 Causes for the Global Disorder	26
2.1.4 Diseases: The Biggest Resource of Productivity and Growth	28
2.1.5 Morality as a Competitive Factor	29
2.2 The Second Candidate: The Environmental Industry	31
2.3 The Third Candidate: Biotechnology	33
2.3.1 Biotechnology as a Basic Innovation of the 6th Kondratieff	37
CHAPTER 3	42
Health as the Growth Engine of the 21st Century	42
3.1 The Economic Impact of the Health Care Industry	43
3.2 The Traditional Health Care Sector	45
3.3 The Newly Emerging Second Health Care Sector	49
3.4 Psychodisciplines in Health Care Systems of the Future	51
3.5 An Almost Forgotten Relationship: Health and Religion	53
3.6 From Curative, Disease Oriented Medicine to Prevention, Health Promotion and Salutogenesis	54
3.7 The Common Denominator of the Sixth Kondratieff	56
3.8 The Sixth Kondratieff- What is it?	57
3.9 Psychosocial Health as the Basic Innovation	58
3.10 The Path to Full Employment during the Sixth Kondratieff	62
3.11 Measures to Implement the Sixth Kondratieff	63
3.12 Summary	69

CHAPTER 4	71
Health as a Strategic Weapon	71
Productivity in the Information Society	71
4.1 Key Factors in Industrial Productivity	72
4.2 Productivity Factors Cooperation and Commitment	73
4.3 Productivity and Health	74
4.4 Cooperative Skills as the Key Qualification of the 6th Kondratieff	77'
4.5 On the Path to Cooperative Individualism	79
4.6 Cooperation Requirements	80
CHAPTER 5	84
Introduction to a Holistic Model of Information (Part 1)	84
5.1 On the Relationship between Matter, Energy and Information	84
5.2 What is Information?	85
5.3 The First Three Levels of Information	87
5.4 One Remark on the Layered Model	91
5.5 The Fourth Level of Information: Psychosocial Reality	92
5.6 A More Detailed Study of the Fourth Level	93
CHAPTER 6	95
Introduction to a Holistic Model of Information (Part 2)	95
6.1 The Main Theme of Psychosocial Health	96
6.2 The Fifth Level of Reality	98
6.3 The Limits of Logical Reasoning	99
PART TWO
From Academic Medicine to Information Medicine	103
CHAPTER 7	104
Information Medicine: The Second Phase of the Information Society	104
7.1 Information as Vibration	104
7.2 Information as Formgiving	106
7.3 From Information Technology to Information Medicine	106
CHAPTER 8	111
Information Medicine at the Physical, Biological and Biosocial Level	111
Introduction to Individualized Medicine	111
8.1 Information Medicine at the Physical Level	111
8.2 Information Medicine at the Biological and Biosocial Level	113
8.3 The Image of Man in Biotechnology	115

CHAPTER 9	117
Consciousness and Health	117
9.1 What is a Probability Field?	118
9.2 A Groundbreaking Experiment: The Double-Slit Experiment	118
9.3 The Autonomy of Consciousness	119
9.4 What is Consciousness?	120
9.5 The Neural Interface between the Material and Immaterial World	121
9.6 Outlook	122
CHAPTER 10	123
Information Medicine at the Mental Level	123
10.1 What is Mental Health?	123
10.2 Psychology Today	124
10.3 How useful are Psychotherapies?	125
10.4 Maslow and the Healthy Human Being	127
10.5 The Search for the Causes of the Deficits	127
10.6 Ethics as Life Orientation	129
10.7 Ethical Virtues as Psychotherapeutic Medicine	130
10.8 The Importance of Ethical Virtues for Therapists	132
10.9 Psychotherapy and Religion	132
10.10 More Recent Trends in Psychology and Psychotherapy	133
10.11 Health and Religion	134
10.12 Some Remarks on Yoga	135
10.13 The Predicament of the Psychotherapist	136
10.14 The New Way: Cooperation as a Challenge in Psychotherapy	136
10.15 The Psychotherapist of the Future	137
CHAPTER 11	140
Health on the Psychosocial Level	140
11.1 The Platform for Psychosocial Health	142
11.2 A Forecast	143
11.3 The Source of Psychosocial Health	146
11.4 Family as a Value Chain	147
CHAPTER 12	151
Health on the Religious and Spiritual Level	151
12.1 What is meant by Spiritual Health?	151
12.2 Prayer, Faith and Health	152
12.3 The Virtues of Faith and Prayer in Scientific Research	153
12.4 Prayer as an Expression of Health	155
12.5 Spiritual Deficits	156
12.6 Religion, Spirituality and Culture	157

CHAPTER 13	159
Retrospective and Outlook	159
13.1 Closing Remarks	166

APPENDICES

Appendix 1: About Nikolai D. Kondratieff	168
Appendix 2: Macro Waves and Innovation Waves	170
A2.1 Thought Experiment No. 1	171
A2.2 Thought Experiment No. 2	172
A2.3 Macro-Kondratieff and Innovation-Kondratieff	174
Appendix 3: Proving the Kondratieff Cycle	177
A3.1 The Technological Level	177
A3.2 The Economic Level	179
A3.3 The Social Level	182
A3.4 The Time Level	184
Appendix 4: The Kondratieff Cycle as a Value Chain	186
Appendix 5: The Theory of Long Waves as an Economic & Social Theory Illustrated by the Example of the Information Society	192
Appendix 5: The Theory of Long Waves as an Economic & Social Theory Illustrated by the Example of the Information Society	192
A5.1 How Kondratieff Cycles Change Society	192
A5.1.1 The Investment Criterion	194
A5.1.2 The Work and Work Organization Criterion	196
A5.1.3 The Qualification Criterion	198
A5.1.4 The Motivation Criterion	200
A5.1.5 The Competition Criterion	201
A5.1.6 The Productivity Criterion	202
A5.1.7 The Economy Criterion	203
A5.1.8 The Law Criterion	206
A5.1.9 The Political Power Criterion	207
A5.1.10 The Consciousness Criterion	208
A5.1.11 The Information Sustainability Criterion	211
A5.2 The Third World	213
Appendix 6: Information Technology during the 5th and 6th Kondratieff	215
A6.1 Information Technology during the Sixth Kondratieff	218
Appendix 7: Information and Physics	220
A7.1 Information and Matter	221
A7.2 Science and Truth	221
A7.3 Real and Possible Being	222

Appendix 8: On Funding Social Systems in the 21st Century	224
A8.1 Is There a Realistic Alternative?	226
A8.2 Advantages of the New Pension Model	227
A8.3 How Could the Pension Model of Central Banks Work?	229
A8.4 Summary	230
Appendix 9: An Excursion on Chapter 12: Does God Exist?	231
Appendix 10: A Guide for Social Sciences: Hildegard of Bingen	233
Reference List	239
About the Authors	249