

THE IDEA OF HUMAN RIGHTS

CHARLES R. BEITZ

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Abbreviations	ix
Preface	xi

Chapter 1 Introduction

1. Why there is a problem	i
2. Forms of skepticism	3
3. Approach	7

Chapter 2 The Practice

4. Origins	14
5. Doctrine	27
6. Implementation	31
7. An emergent practice	42
8. Problems	44

Chapter 3 Naturalistic Theories

9. Naturalism about human rights	49
10. Persons "as such" (1): the demand side	59
11. Persons "as such" (2): the supply side	68

Chapter 4 Agreement Theories

12. "Common core" and "overlapping consensus"	74
13. The appeal of agreement conceptions	77
14. Progressive convergence	88

Chapter 5 A Fresh Start

15. Human rights in The Law of Peoples	96
16. The idea of a practical conception	102
17. A two-level model	106
18. "Manifesto rights"	117
19. The role of states	122

Chapter 6 Normativity

20. What human rights are for	128
21. A schema	136
22. Minimalism and social justice ; i	141
23. Toleration (1): the domestic analogy	144
24. Toleration (2): the autonomy of peoples	152

Chapter 7 International Concern

25. Anti-poverty rights	161
26. Political rights	174
27. Human rights of women	186

Chapter 8 Conclusion

28. Residues of skepticism	198
29. Pathologies	201
30. Human rights and global normative order	209

Works Cited	213
Index	227