

Research Handbook on Start-Up Incubation Ecosystems

Edited by

Adam Novotny

Researcher, Nord University Business School, Bodo, Norway

Einar Rasmussen

Professor, Nord University Business School, Bodo, Norway

Tommy H. Clausen

Professor, Nord University Business School, Bodo, Norway

Johan Wiklund

*The Al Berg Chair and Professor of Entrepreneurship,
Whitman School of Management, Syracuse University, USA*

Edward Elgar
PUBLISHING

Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

List of contributors	viii
Preface	xi
Introduction: Helping birds to fly: Introducing start-up incubation ecosystems Adam Novotny, Einar Rasmussen, Tommy H. Clausen, and Johan Wiklund	1
PART I HOLISTIC APPROACHES TO SUPIEs
1 The role of smart specialization in providing regional strategic support for establishing sustainable start-up incubation ecosystems Nhien Nguyen, Age Mariussen, and Jens O. Hansen	19
2 Incubating start-ups in entrepreneurial ecosystems: A multilevel perspective on entrepreneurial resources Shruti Sardeshmukh, Allan O'Connor, and Ronda Smith	40
3 The domains of entrepreneurship support Tiago Ratinho	60
4 In support of university spinoffs - what drives the organizational design of technology transfer ecosystems? Matthew Good and Mirjam Knockaert	74
5 The support system's influence on nature-based business start-ups in a rural context Jorunn Grande and Espen Carlsson	94
6 Transnational entrepreneurial ecosystems: The perspectives of Finnish and Estonian born-global start-ups Hannes Veit, Lasse Torkkeli, and Sami Saarenketo	110
7 A contingency approach to the incubation of new ventures in entrepreneurial ecosystems: Descriptive exploratory plots for continuous and survival outcomes Alan R. Johnson, Katherine E. Masyn, and Alexander McKelvie	135

PART II START-UP SUPPORT ORGANIZATIONS

- 8 Organizational sponsorship: An overview of the state of knowledge and future research directions 174
Marit Breivik-Meyer
- 9 Understanding startup development organizations in the context of startup incubation ecosystems 194
Cristiano Bellavitis, Michael Sargent, and Carlos M. DaSilva
- 10 Distinguishing self-sufficient business incubators in start-up incubation ecosystems 206
Oliver Straub, Peter M. Bican, and Alexander Brem
- 11 Incubators' coopetition strategy in the start-up incubation ecosystem 224
Christina Theodoraki and Karim Messeghem
- 12 A comparative analysis of USA enterprise support organizations for conscious capitalism and conventional capitalism 239
Kerul Kassel, Shelley F. Mitchell, and Guenola Abord-Hugon Nonet
- 13 Incubation and founders' champion behaviour 254
Are Jensen, Nhien Nguyen, and Jens O. Hansen
- 14 Multinational companies' roles in start-up incubation ecosystems: The case of Microsoft Innovation Centers in Brazil 273
Nadja Nordling, Elisa Thomas, Rhiannon Pugh, and Roberto Rivas Hermann
- 15 Outsider support, firm births and outcomes 285
Lars Kolvereid and Espen J. Isaksen

PART III UNIVERSITY-BASED SUPIEs

- 16 Bridging or isolating? The role of the university Technology Transfer Office in the start-up incubation ecosystem 299
Adam Novotny
- 17 The key drivers for emergence of an entrepreneurial ecosystem - the role of brokerage, role models and inspiration 319
Karolina Lesniak and Roger Sorheim

18	Toward a model for universities as incubation ecosystems: Facilitating students for an entrepreneurial career B. W. Amo, IB. Petter sen, E. van der Lingen, K. Voldsund, and J. J. Bragelien	335
19	Individual-level determinants of academic patent licensing to start-ups: impacts of principal investigators' embeddedness in the industry Dolores Modic and Tohru Yoshioka-Kobayashi	349
20	The university ecosystem and the internationalization of spin-off firms Eva Jenny B. Jorgensen and Adam Novotny	366
21	The academic entrepreneurship ecosystem: The role of the university for societal impact of academic spin-offs Anders Billstrom	381
22	Urban universities as a start-up ecosystem: The case of academic spin-offs in Milan Matteo Landoni	402
23	Motivating universities to support spin-off firms: Stakeholders and start-up incubation ecosystems Einar Rasmussen, Paul Benneworth, and Magnus Gulbrandsen	418
	Index	435