

Fundamentals of Taxation:
An Introduction to Tax Policy,
Tax Law and Tax Administration

Pasquale Pistone
Jennifer Roeleveld
Johann Hattingh
Joao Felix Pinto Nogueira
Craig West

Table of Contents

Preface	ix
Chapter 1: Introduction to Tax Policy	1
1.1. Fiscal policy and tax policy	1
1.2. The budgetary balance of tax, debt and expenditure in fiscal policy	1
1.3. Policy principles for a state to raise taxation	3
1.3.1. What is a tax?	3
1.3.2. Theories justifying taxation	4
1.3.3. Justifying taxation through its use	6
Chapter 2: Principles of Taxation	9
2.1. Features of a good tax policy	9
2.1.1. Introduction	9
2.1.2. Equity	10
2.1.2.1. Defining equity in tax policy	10
2.1.2.2. Horizontal equity	11
2.1.2.3. Vertical equity	11
2.1.2.4. Legitimacy	13
2.1.2.5. Inter-nation equity	13
2.1.3. Economic efficiency	13
2.1.3.1. Defining economic efficiency for tax policy	13
2.1.3.2. Neutrality	13
2.1.3.3. Stability	14
2.1.3.4. Simplicity	14
2.1.3.5. Productivity	15
2.1.3.6. Sufficiency	17
2.1.4. Administrability	17
2.1.4.1. Defining the administrability of tax policy	17
2.1.4.2. Certainty, transparency, accountability and legality	18
2.1.4.3. Collection cost/tax yield	19

Table of Contents

2.1.4.4.	Simplicity	19
2.1.4.5.	Enforceability	20
2.1.4.6.	Information security and confidentiality	21
2.1.5.	Coherence	21
2.1.5.1.	Defining coherence	21
2.1.5.2.	Interaction within and between taxes	21
2.1.5.3.	Broad base	22
2.1.5.4.	Tax mix	22
2.1.5.5.	Adaptability and continuity	23
2.1.5.6.	International coherence	24
2.1.6.	Challenges in application	24
2.1.6.1.	Tax mix to be relevant	24
2.1.6.2.	Understanding the purpose of the tax	24
2.1.6.3.	Developing versus developed countries	25
2.1.6.4.	Reliance on external reference points	25
2.2.	Economics and tax policy	26
2.3.	Rule of Law	28
2.3.1.	Introduction and rationale for the Rule of Law	28
2.3.2.	Functioning and presence of the Rule of Law in a legal system	29
2.3.3.	Nature and features of the Rule of Law	29
2.3.4.	"No taxation without representation"	33
2.3.5.	Certainty: Interpretation of law	35
2.3.6.	The principle of legality	36
2.3.7.	Law – not discretion – and the exercise of public power	38
2.3.8.	Equity in tax law	40
2.3.8.1.	Justice, fairness and ability to pay	40
2.3.8.2.	Non-discrimination	41
2.3.9.	Other aspects of the Rule of Law	42
2.3.9.1.	Dispute resolution and fair trial	42
2.3.9.2.	International law	42

Chapter 3: Legal Systems	45
3.1. Common law	45
3.1.1. Introduction and features	45
3.1.2. Territorial reach of English common law	47
3.1.3. Commercial and tax law in common law countries	48
3.1.4. Sources of tax law and rules of precedent	49
3.1.5. Interpretation of tax law	52
3.1.6. Relation of tax law to the general legal framework	55
3.2. Civil law	56
3.2.1. Introduction and features	56
3.2.2. Territorial reach of civil law	58
3.2.3. Commercial and tax law in civil law countries	59
3.2.4. Sources of tax law and the rule of precedent	60
3.2.5. Interpretation of tax law	61
3.2.6. Relationship between tax law and the general legal framework	62
3.3. Mixed legal systems	63
3.3.1. Introduction and features	63
3.3.2. Commercial and tax law	65
3.4. Supranational law and international institutions	65
3.4.1. Introduction	65
3.4.2. Supranational law and tax law	66
3.4.3. International institutions and tax law	67
3.4.4. The impact of hybridization and pluralism on tax law	67
Chapter 4: Substantive Tax Law	71
4.1. Introduction	71
4.2. Institutional design	72
4.2.1. Federal versus central (unitary) systems	72
4.2.1.1. Introduction	72
4.2.1.2. Federal systems	72
4.2.1.3. Central systems	75
4.2.2. Regional integration	76
4.2.3. Division of powers	77
4.2.3.1. Overview	77
4.2.3.2. Legislative powers	79
4.2.3.3. Executive powers	81
4.2.3.4. Judicial powers	82
4.2.4. The making of tax policy	84

Table of Contents

4.3.	Tax system design	85
4.3.1.	Who will be taxed?	85
4.3.1.1.	Natural persons	86
4.3.1.2.	Corporate entities	86
4.3.1.3.	Transparent entities	86
4.3.1.4.	Permanent establishments	87
4.3.1.5.	Geographical scope	87
4.3.2.	What will be taxed?	87
4.3.2.1.	Income	88
4.3.2.2.	Wealth	88
4.3.2.3.	Transactions	89
4.3.2.4.	Consumption or use	89
4.3.2.5.	Net or gross basis	89
4.3.2.6.	The influence of accounting principles on tax law	90
4.3.3.	When will it be taxed?	91
4.3.3.1.	Direct taxes	91
4.3.3.2.	Indirect taxes	91
4.3.3.3.	Transactional	92
4.3.4.	How will tax be collected?	92
4.3.4.1.	Employment	92
4.3.4.2.	Business or other income	92
4.3.4.3.	Withholdings	93
4.3.4.4.	Indirect taxes	93
4.3.4.5.	Cross-border assistance	93
4.3.5.	Administration of tax collection	94
4.3.6.	How do you deal with avoidance and evasion?	95
4.3.6.1.	SAARs	95
4.3.6.2.	GAARs	96
4.3.6.3.	TAARs	96
4.3.6.4.	Amnesties and voluntary disclosure schemes	96
4.3.7.	Treaties	96

J

Chapter 5: Procedural Tax Law	99
5.1. The general framework of tax procedures	99
5.1.1. The structure of tax procedures	99
5.1.1.1. Instrumental function in the exercise of taxing powers by means of tax collection	99
5.1.1.2. Administrative and judicial tax procedures	100
5.1.2. The principles of tax procedures	102
5.1.2.1. Fairness and legal protection	102
5.1.2.2. The four foundation principles of fair tax procedures	103
5.1.2.2.1. The principle of proportionality	103
5.1.2.2.2. The prohibition of double jeopardy	105
5.1.2.2.3. The right to be heard	106
5.1.2.2.4. The right to not self-incriminate	110
5.2. Administrative tax procedures	110
5.2.1. Tax rulings	110
5.2.1.1. Features, functions, effects and legal basis	110
5.2.1.2. The effects of tax rulings and their relationship with other tax procedures	111
5.2.2. Tax assessment	112
5.2.2.1. Self-assessment versus assessment of tax by tax authorities: Features, functions, effects and legal basis	112
5.2.2.2. Relationship with other tax procedures	114
5.2.3. Tax audits	116
5.2.3.1. Structure and goals	116
5.2.3.2. Preliminary phase	116
5.2.3.3. Main types	118
5.2.3.4. Core phase	120
5.2.3.5. Tax notice	121
5.2.4. Tax collection	123
5.2.4.1. Collection through third parties	123
5.2.4.2. Voluntary payments by the taxpayer	124
5.2.4.3. Forcible collection	125

Table of Contents

5.2.5.	Tax refunds	126
5.2.5.1.	Main features	126
5.2.5.2.	Procedural aspects	127
5.2.5.2.1.	Tax refunds	127
5.2.5.2.2.	Tax reimbursements	127
5.3.	Reviews and appeals	128
5.3.1.	Administrative reviews	128
5.3.1.1.	Self-correction and administrative reviews	128
5.3.1.2.	The taxpayer and administrative reviews	129
5.3.1.3.	The relationship between administrative reviews and judicial appeals	129
5.3.2.	Judicial appeals	130
5.3.2.1.	The system and function of judicial appeals	130
5.3.2.2.	Judicial actions in tax matters	131
5.3.2.3.	Judicial appeals involving several taxpayers	132
5.3.2.4.	The jurisdiction of courts in tax matters and the dynamics of judicial appeals	133
5.3.2.5.	The judicial decision	134
5.3.2.6.	Appeals before higher judicial courts	135
5.3.3.	Alternative tax dispute settlement procedures	135
5.3.3.1.	The mechanisms for settling tax disputes	135
5.3.3.2.	Conciliation	136
5.3.3.3.	Mediation	137
5.3.3.4.	Arbitration	138
5.4.	The procedures for the settlement of cross-border tax disputes	139
5.4.1.	The mutual agreement procedure	139
5.4.2.	Arbitration	139
5.4.3.	Their mutual relations	141
5.4.4.	Relations with domestic administrative and judicial procedures	142

Chapter 6: Sanctions	143
6.1. Introduction	143
6.2. Principles and corollaries	144
6.2.1. Introduction	144
6.2.2. Legality	143
6.2.3. Proportionality	145
6.2.4. Prohibition of double jeopardy	146
6.2.5. Individual culpability	146
6.2.6. Due process of law and its corollaries	147
6.3. General framework	148
6.3.1. Introduction	148
6.3.2. Objective and subjective element	149
6.3.3. Responsibility of corporate officers for sanctions for legal entities	150
6.3.4. Codification	150
6.4. Classification	151
6.4.1. Introduction	151
6.4.2. According to the nature	151
6.4.3. According to the need for a material result	152
6.4.4. In respect of the person	152
6.4.5. In respect of the underlying protected value	153
6.5. Infringements	154
6.5.1. Introduction	154
6.5.2. Failure to pay taxes in due time	154
6.5.3. Obligations regarding reporting and other formal obligations	155
6.5.3.1. In general	155
6.5.3.2. Tax returns	156
6.5.4. Obligations regarding documentation and accounts	156
6.5.4.1. Bookkeeping and invoices	156
6.5.4.2. Transfer pricing documentation	157
6.5.4.3. Omissions or false documents/ declarations	157
6.5.4.4. Failure to use approved forms or other documents	158
6.5.4.5. Failure to display certificates of payment of taxes	158
6.5.4.6. Accounting software	158

Table of Contents

6.5.5.	Obligations regarding due cooperation	158
6.5.6.	Other infringements	159
6.5.6.1.	Mandatory use of bank accounts	159
6.5.6.2.	Appointment of legal representatives	159
6.5.6.3.	Withholding agents or other related parties	159
6.5.6.4.	Transfer of money abroad	160
6.5.7.	Infringements by tax authorities or other public servants	160
6.6.	Sanctions	161
6.6.1.	Main sanctions	161
6.6.2.	Ancillary sanctions	162
6.6.3.	Sanctions and interest	162
6.7.	Determination of the sanction	163
6.7.1.	Introduction	163
6.7.2.	Abstract framework	163
6.7.3.	Adjusting the framework	164
6.7.4.	Determination of specific amount	165
6.8.	Exclusion or reduction of the sanction	166
6.8.1.	Exclusion of punishment	166
6.8.2.	Waiver of the sanction	166
6.8.3.	Self-disclosure schemes	167
6.8.4.	Settlements	168
6.9.	Suspension	168
6.9.1.	Suspension of the determination of a sanction	168
6.9.2.	Suspension of the application of a sanction	168
6.10.	Extinction	169
Bibliography
	Books and Journals	171
	Other	176