

Architecture of Coexistence Building Pluralism

Edited by Azra Aksamija

TANGLE

AGA KHAN AWARD
FOR ARCHITECTURE

gjiing
EIIIIISI

Table of Contents

6

Foreword: Architecture and Harmony
Farrokh Derakhshani

8

Architecture of Coexistence: Building Pluralism
Azra Aksamija

I. Building Pluralism

26

Beyond Homogeneity: On the Concept of Transculturality
Wolfgang Welsch

36

Immigrant Communities and Their Buildings
Mohammad al-Asad

52

The Architecture of Death in Islam: A Brief Cross-cultural History
Nasser Rabbat

II. Divergence

66

The White Mosque, Visoko, Bosnia and Herzegovina
Interviews and Photo Essay by Velibor Bozovic

100

Headless, They March On: Cephalophores and Coexistence in Ottoman Bosnia
Amila Buturovic

110

Bosnia and the Destruction of Coexistence
Helen Walasek

120

Mosque First: Coming to Terms with the Legacy of Past Abuses in Bosnia Through Heritage Restoration
Amra Hadzimuhamedovic

III. Dissonance

136

Superkilen, Copenhagen, Denmark

Interviews by Tina Gudrun Jensen, Photos by Jesper Lambaek

162

Rhetoric of Segregation, Everyday Forms of Coexistence:
Diverging Visions of Diversity and Coexistence in Denmark

Tina Gudrun Jensen

172

A 'Border Concept': Scandinavian Public Space in the Twenty-First Century

Jennifer Mack

184

Conflictual Constellations: On Superkilen

Barbara Steiner

IV. Convergence

194

Islamic Cemetery Altagh, Austria

Interviews by Robert Fabach, Photos by Nikolaus Walter and Cemal Emden

228

Cultivating Convergence: The Islamic Cemetery Altagh, Austria

Azra Aksamija

242

The Islamic Cemetery as an Expression of the Process of Muslim Belonging in Vorarlberg

Simon Burtscher-Mathis

252

An Offer of Leadership

Eva Grabherr in conversation with Azra Aksamija

V. Epilogue

264

Islam, Arts, and Pedagogy

Ali S. Asani

276 Contributor Biographies

282 Image credits

284 Acknowledgements

288 Imprint