

Centrality and Periphery: The Dialectics of Lefebvre in Johannesburg

Part A: Synopsis¹

Lindsay Blair Howe
Hohenklingenstrasse 8 / 8049 Zurich / Switzerland
Lindsay.howe@uni.li

Habilitation

To obtain the title of PD Dr. habil.
and receive a
venia legendi
in Architecture and Planning

University of Liechtenstein

¹ This manuscript provides the synopsis (Part A) of my habilitation thesis, in combination with the five scholarly articles presented in the second part (Part B).

Table of Contents

1	Introduction	4
	Analytical Framework of the Habilitation	5
	Structure of the Habilitation Synthesis	6
2	Theorizing from Below	9
	The Production of Space from Paris and Johannesburg	9
	Access and Centrality	13
3	Processes of Peripheralization	17
	From Spatial Triadec to Processes of Peripheralization	17
	Conceiving Processes of Peripheralization in Johannesburg	18
4	Centrality and Periphery	22
	Spatiality and Agency	23
	Thinking through People	26
	Processes of Peripheralization	30
	Gender, Poverty, and Mobility	32
	Cooperative Urbanism	35
5	Looking Beyond Lefebvre	38
6	References	40
	Honor Statement	47